ARTS AND SCIENCES

The department of arts and sciences was the original school at Moores Hill. When the college was moved to Evansville ten years ago, the department was continued with Dean Charles E. Torbet, A.B., M.A. as the head. Although there have been additions to the college, the department of liberal arts has been maintained as the main feature of the college.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Although it is comparatively young, the department of business administration is one of the most progressive departments of the college. Under the head of Professor Dean Long, A.B., M.B.A., students who desire a study of the fundamentals of business are given a training that is without peer in the state of Indiana.

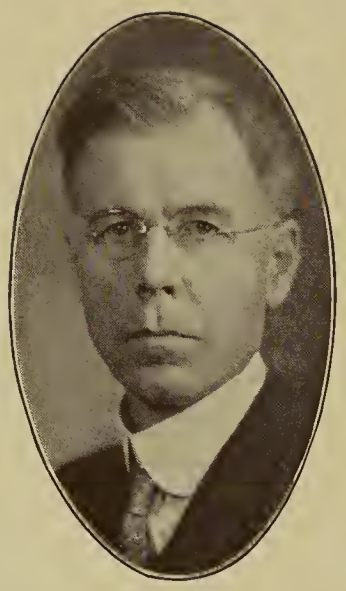

EDUCATION

The department of education of the college is one of the best known parts of the school. Ranked as one of the very best teachers training institutes in the state, the department under the leadership of Professor Homer L. Humke, A.B., M.A. is said to be the best. The graduates of this department are qualified to teach anywhere in the state of Indiana.

ENGINEERING

The department of engineering was organized a few years ago on the co-operative basis. Since that time it has grown with leaps and bounds, until today it ranks as one of the largest departments in the school. Professor Laurence B. Hoyt, B.S. is acting head of the department. The students go to school part time and work part time under the engineering plan of education.

DEAN CHARLES EDGAR TORBET

Dean Charles E. Torbet, A.B., M.A., Ohio Wesleyan University, has been the dean of Evansville College since its opening here. He was formerly a professor of History at Moores Hill College, bringing with him to Evansville, all of the traditions and customs of our predecessor school. Dean Torbet has always been a friend to every student; willing to advise and cooperate whenever he was wanted. He has always refused to assert his authority as long as college activities have been under proper control. In cases where he has interposed, the students found him to be fair in his decision to all parties concerned.

DEANS

DEAN WAHNITA DeLONG, A.B., M.A.

The hardest job on the campus falls to the lot of Dean DeLong. Not only does she have to act as a counsellor to the women students of the college, but she likewise must supervise every college social activity. Dean DeLong has attempted to stress friendship and democracy on the campus. In addition to all of these arduous duties, it is Miss DeLong who has to lead the poor freshman students through the maze of English Composition. She is advisor to the Y. W. C. A., the Women's Council, and to the Student Honor Court.

SENIORS

CLASS OF 1930

Our apprenticeship period is about over, and we are ready to embark upon the sea of life as journeymen. We, the class of 1930, have gone through our period as fledglings; and we have taken the wings of sophomorehood and gotten aboard the ship of education. As juniors we were taught the charts, the maps and the compass. And now as seniors, we are ready to take complete control of the ship of life.

Four years is a very short time to prepare for such a long journey, but we have tried hard to learn from our masters and teachers the more important points of navigation upon this treacherous sea. We think that we are equipped for this struggle because of the character of teaching that has been ours.

We cannot express our deep appreciation to our teachers by mere words. Only our handling of this ship of life can show them that we have learned well and that we guard our knowledge as a precious cargo.

The news of the year in picture!

Back again to old E. C. and the sophomores just won't let the dear rhynies alone. The above pictures were taken from this year's annual scrap in which the freshmen were the victors. The scrap was under the auspices of the Student Government Association.

The women were not left out of this year's fun. Picture above shows women in the tug-of-war. Frosh victors.

Hartke and Fitzsimmons bring the house down at the homecoming stunts with their clever dance.

Dr. Legg is appointed dean of men! He is to take office next September. Picture shows Legg on his usual hike to school.

COACH JOHN M. HARMON

The success of an athletic team cannot be measured alone by the wins and losses. There is that intangible, indescribable something which is instilled into the men by the coach. Coach Harmon has been a leader. Victories may have been few and far between, but the men won everything when it came to having been associated with Coach Harmon.

COACHES

COACH LORAINE RAKE

The past season was Assistant Coach Rake's first with the Purple Aces. He helped to run the team in a manner that comes only to a man who knows what he is talking about. Rake acted as coach several times when Harmon was sick. The men got out and fought for Rake as if he were the head varsity coach. What better tribute can be paid a young coach?

ROBERT DOSSETT

At the end of the football season the letter men chose Robert Dossett to captain next year's football eleven. The choice seems to have been a wise one, for Dossett was one of the outstanding players on this year's team. Dossett has pledged his support to help produce a winning team for Evansville next year. Much is expected of Dossett and his gang.

CAPTAINS-ELECT

QUENTIN HARTKE

Captain-elect Quentin Kenwood Hartke, perhaps the greatest athlete Evansville College has ever had, will lead the Purple Ace basketball five next year. Hartke was rewarded for his stellar playing on both the football team and the basketball team by receiving a place on the mythical all-state teams. The entire school has confidence in Hartke and his ability to produce one of those old time state winners again.

CAPTAIN RAY HOLLIS

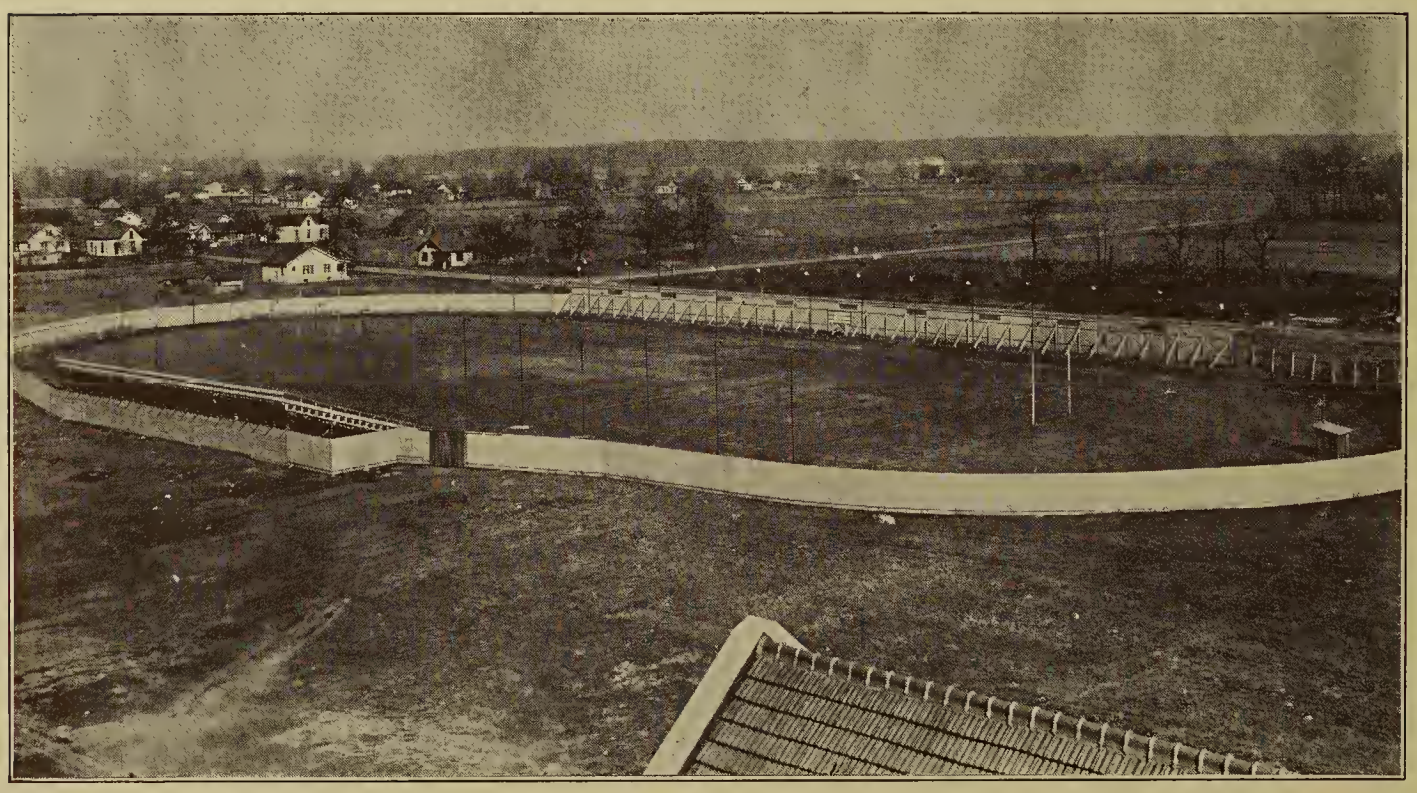

Football

FOOTBALL

The 1929 football season at Evansville College was not altogether a success. With a schedule of eight games the Aces lost all but one. They defeated Oakland City in the second game of the season. This single victory, however, was an improvement over the less successful season of '28. The men played hard and deserved to win more games than they did, but fate ruled otherwise. Several times they were within sight of the goal, but each time something happened that made them fail in their attempt to score and win.

Coach Harmon labored with the handicap of a small squad again. This lack of strong reserve material may have been partially responsible for the many defeats suffered.

The past season will always be remembered as the first year of night football. With the introduction of this lighting system it was possible to practice longer than usual; get the men who worked after school out for practice; and to play all games in the evening. The entire credit for the installation of the system goes to Coach John M. Harmon who spent much time and effort in securing it for the college.

The first game of the season ended in a 25-0 defeat. The game with Bethel was hard fought. Sock Dick, Bob Dossett, and Louis Bosse were outstanding for the locals. Garrett, Harper, and Bosse received injuries that kept them out of the game the rest of the year.

The second game on the schedule was with the Aces' arch enemies, Oakland City. Evansville won this game after a stubborn fight by the score of 6-0. The backfield composed of Crisp, Fritsch, Dossett, and Dick performed nicely in this fracas. In the line the credit went to Stoltz, Captain Hollis, McMurtry, and E. Fitzsimmons.

Rose Poly with the aid of a bit of daylight conquered the night players from Evansville in a memorable scrap by the score of 12-7. The game had barely started when Hartke blocked a punt with his face and then fell on the ball over the goal line. After this the Aces lost to Indiana Central, State Normal, and Danville on successive weeks.

The homecoming game is one to be remembered by the team. The gang decided to train and fight for one week at least. Franklin came to Evansville expecting a walk over. They had been playing great ball and the locals were dubs. But when the game was over the entire Franklin eleven had changed their opinion of the Evansville boys. Using the same attack that assistant-coach Rake used against Wisconsin when he was playing with Franklin, Quarterback Warren and End Hartke completed pass after pass over the line of scrimmage. Once Hartke got away for a touchdown only to be called back by the referee who had by mistake tooted his whistle.

In this game, slim Ottie Fitzsimmons proved to be one of the greatest men on the squad. He played in Captain Hollis' position at center and repeatedly went through Franklin's line to get their backfield. The game was lost, however, during the last half. The score was 12-0. Dossett, Warren, Hartke, Stoltz, and A. Fitzsimmons proved to be the best for the Aces.

The final game was played on a snow covered field. The Aces were simply outclassed. Bowling Green trampled on them to the tune of 44-0. The Aces tried hard but couldn't seem to get going against this heavier team.

Coach Harmon awarded twelve letters at the close of the season. Letters were awarded to Captain Hollis, Captain-elect Dossett, Dickman, Warren, Brandenberger, McBride, McMurtry, Hartke, E. Fitzsimmons, A. Fitzsimmons, V. Drier and Knerr.

Five of the lettermen were seniors and so will be lost to the squad. However, Harmon has Dossett in the backfield, and McBride, E. Fitzsimmons, A. Fitzsimmons, and Drier for the line.

The Kiwanis medal awarded annually to the most valuable man on the team was given to Robert Dickman.

Among the freshmen who were outstanding and show promise were Alhering, Ardern, Richardson, and Smith.

Next season should put Evansville back in the win column as the men themselves are ready for a victorious team again.

Basketball

BASKETBALL

The basketball team, while losing all but three games, were well on the way to a championship team when the season ended. The men at the end of the year had begun to get a smooth running machine together and were making things hot for their opponents. After a rotten football season, the basketball year was a grand success. Never was there more loyalty between the players and the coach than there was on this year's team. This spirit was soon caught up by the students themselves, and before the year was over, enthusiasm was apparent again for a Purple Ace team.

McKendree opened the season and defeated the locals. Then came Oakland City. Marked improvement was noted among the Aces as they defeated their ancient rivals. The students sensed the approach of a championship five. They were disappointed though, not because the E. C. men didn't play hard enough, but because the opponents were just too stiff a competition. There were some teams that eked out victories that didn't deserve them, but did because the breaks were against the Aces.

Harmon only had three letter men from the year before to use as a nucleus for his team; but with the members of the frosh squad of the year before he soon got together a classy aggregation.

The combination of Harper, Hartke, and Vaughn as a scoring threat was looking mighty sweet at the end of the season. McMurty and Bosse with the help of Burrell and Fitzsimmons, did the guarding in good fashion. Little Baldwin played his usual stellar game in pinches whenever needed.

Letters were awarded to Captain Harper, Captain-elect Hartke, Vaughn, Baldwin, McMurtry, Bosse, Fitzsimmons, and Burrell. Only Captain Harper will be lost to the squad by graduation. Under the leadership of Hartke much is expected of the Aces for next year. It certainly looks at this time like Evansville is once more headed for a state championship.

PRESIDENT RUTH SMITH
W. A. A.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association includes a variety of sports in its program. By doing this it hopes to interest every girl on the campus. In order to become a member of the W. A. A. a girl must earn a minimum of one hundred points. She must also be familiar with the constitution, take the membership pledge, and pay the initiation fees.

Points are awarded for participation in the following sports: basketball, soccer, track, bicycling, volley ball, archery, horseshoe pitching, hiking, and golf.

Honors are given by the W. A. A. according to the point system. Five hundred points are required for a numeral and a thousand points are necessary for a sweater.

Officers of the organization for the school year were, Ruth Smith, president; Emily Wright, vice-president; Lorine Zuelly, secretary; and Virginia Dickman, treasurer. Mary Flo Siegel was the sponsor of the group.

Hikes and an inter-society basketball tourney were the main events sponsored by the W. A. A. during the past year.

MARY FLO SIEGEL

LORINE ZUELLY
Secretary

The 1929-1930 W. A. A. women's inter-society basketball tourney was won by the Gamma Delta, freshman society, after a hard struggle with a bunch of inspired Gamma Epsilon Sigmas. The first game which was played to decide the championship ended in a tie, 21-21. The play off game ended in a 15-8 victory for the rhynie femmes.

The Champions won their way to the finals by defeating the Theta Sigs, 12-2; Gamma Epsilon Sigmas, 21-16; and the Castalians by the forfeiture route. The Sigs eased into the finals by trimming the Castalians, 16-10, and Theta Sigs, 16-0.

The tourney was a decided success according to the officials in charge.

Athletic seasons usually terminate in toasting the athletes and forgetting those persons who have functioned behind the scenes. Many times these co-workers are as responsible for a complete season as are the players.

Some such persons who have been forgotten but who deserve just as much a place in the sun as the letter men do, are: Oliver Hard, chief yell leader, Mary Flo Siegel, assistant yell leader, Alvin Knowles, student athletic manager, and Wayne Paulen who had charge of equipment.

STUDENT AFFAIRS

THE LINC

We, the staff, present to you this 1930 LinC and hope that you will like it. We have worked hard to give you something which is absolutely new and different. We feel that this book fulfills the promises that we have made of a "better" annual.

For the first time in the history of the school the LinC has been based directly upon a well defined art theme. Artists have been hired to create an atmosphere of the old pirate quests. Special photography has been used as well as special paper and inks. We have tried to link together every picture with not only our theme but likewise with its place in the book.

The staff feels indebted to Joseph Burk and Gordon Legg for the fine art work; to Waldens, Inc. and Ed Rech for the superb photography; and to Keller-Crescent Company for the printing and engraving. Special thanks and praise is given to Mr. Wilford B. Leap of the Keller-Crescent Company who has given quite a bit of time in planning this book.

So here is our treasure book! We hope that you will always treasure it as one of your happiest memories of Evansville College.

THE CRESCENT

Carrying on the policy of the originators of the Crescent to make the student paper a real representative of the students, the editors and executive board of the Crescent during the past year have strived to carry student opinion to the fore through the columns of the weekly paper. New features were added and new make-ups were featured.

Amos Boren was elected as editor of the paper at the beginning of the year, but was forced to resign after several weeks of editing because of duties outside of school. He was succeeded by Virginia Dickman, who with the help of Miss Mabel Inco and several members of the staff, weekly edited one of the finest college papers in the state.

The Crescent's policy while not as aggressive as of former years showed a tendency toward constructive criticism of college life and college affairs. The editorial and news policy blended together in a very fine fashion. Additions were made from time to time to give an improvement to the sheet. A poetry contest was held and the judges decided that the poems submitted were not of a high enough caliber to win the prize. Several of the columnists wrote their material incognito but the students quickly ascertained their identity and as usual objected to breaking into print.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Student government continued at the college during the past year much on the same level as of former years. Meetings were held whenever there was any business to transact.

At the very first of the year the Student Government Association passed a motion to include the price of the 1930 LinC in the student activity fee. This bill, although a duplicate of one passed the spring previous, was introduced to convince the members of the board of trustees of the college that the students really desired to pay for their annuals when they paid their tuition.

Very little legislation was introduced during the past year and consequently the organization didn't appear to be very progressive; however, under the guidance of President Knerr and the executive board the government of the college was continuously being bettered.

Elections for the coming year were to take place during the month of May. A spirited race was looked for as the presidency of the Student Government Association is considered as the highest position in the college.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Wiegand Knerr, President; Burtrice Brown, Wayne Paulen, Virginia Oncle, Sam Medlicott, Harold Huffine, James Leo Warren, Russell Garrett, O. Glenn Stahl.

STUDENT HONOR COURT

Beginning the year with a revised constitution, the student honor system enjoyed a very good year. A new honor principle was introduced for examinations. Students no longer signed a pledge that they would report anyone whom they observed cheating. Instead a new plan of personal responsibility was used.

The student honor court was changed in its personnel so that a member of the faculty would be a member of the court with power to vote on all cases. When the accused was a man student, the dean of the college was a member of the court. When the defendant was a woman student, the dean of women sat with the student court. This being the first time in history that the students did not have complete control in the honor court.

Because of a new clause in the honor system which gives the president of the college or the dean the right to intercede in any case before it reaches the court, there were not many cases before the judicial body during the past year.

FRATERNITIES---SOCIETIES

PI GAMMA MU

The Indiana Alpha chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science scholastic fraternity, was organized on the Evansville College campus in the spring of 1929. The charter was delivered to the group of local members last February by former President Alfred F. Hughes. This organization seeks to encourage scholarship among students of the social science subjects. Membership is limited to those students who have made a grade of A in their major and a grade of B in all other social science subjects which they have carried.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debate and oratory fraternity, was organized on the local campus in 1927 with six active members. The Evansville chapter of this national forensic fraternity seeks to foster debates and oratorical contests at the local school. The chapter sent Glenn Stahl as their official representative to the national convention of the fraternity at Miami University last December. Entrance requirements are based upon activity in debate and oratorical contests.

ALPHA ALPHA CLUB

THESPIAN DRAMATIC CLUB

BETA ALPHA KAPPA

Beta Alpha Kappa, formerly the Business Administration Club, is for members of the Department of Business Administration. Any student in the department who cares to, may become a member of this Greek letter club.

Under the direction of Alvin Brandenberger, president, this organization of future business men reorganized their club and selected a new name. During the past year the club has had regular monthly meetings. This achievement was accomplished after most persons had given the club up as a dead organization.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Alvin Brandenberger	Adolph Grein
Andrew Ginger	Wiegand Knerr
James Kelly	Thos. Webster
Geo. Ranes	Roland Bauer

THE CO-OP CLUB

The Co-op club is an organization of the engineering department. Any member of this department may become a member of this club if he cares to. The purpose of the Co-op club is to promote and develop the professional and social interest of engineering students.

Banquets and other social affairs are held from time to time to provide a chance for the members to get together and enjoy themselves. Every spring the club fosters a boat ride.

During the year the Co-ops presented several lectures of a technical nature for everyone interested in engineering subjects. These lectures are presented primarily to let the future engineers get an idea of the field of work in which they are entering.

In former years a dinner was given at which time the co-op members invited their employers to be their guests. These meetings help to cement the friendship of business men and the college engineering department.

SECOND YEAR EDUCATION CLUB

D. Williams, E. Monroe, Mrs. Conley, M. Westerhoff, M. Andres, H. Busch, A. Baughn, M. Miller, D. Stevens, E. Patton, M. Kroening, V. Fisher, A. Winchell, H. Hilgeman, L. Richardt, C. Evans, R. Stamps, R. Utley, H. Wiggers, D. Mottley, L. Schultz.

FIRST YEAR EDUCATION CLUB

H. Kratz, M. Weisbach, R. Grimwood, C. Hill, M. Koch, E. Walker, S. Bauman, M. Bartlow, B. Neiderhaus, M. Schweitzer, E. Sanders, M. Fisher, G. Severinghaus, E. Roth, D. Bumb, K. Lumley, L. Synder.

COLLEGE BAND

CHOIR

The Evansville College choir was organized two years ago under the direction of President Harper. Mr. Leslie has been the director of the choir during the past year.

The choir presents several programs each year. Special appearances are made in conjunction with President Harper at various churches, not only in the city of Evansville, but likewise in the Methodist Indiana Conference.

The choir maintains its own organization and conducts social affairs during the school year for its members.

During the past year the choir has sung for the seventy-fifth anniversary of Evansville College, the city of Evansville Municipal concerts, and the commencement exercises. Class day, the choir sings as a part of the seniors' program.

FORENSIC

Evansville College has just passed through the greatest debating season in her history. More teams were met during the past year and more victories were won.

For the first time, Evansville was represented on the debate floor by a complete women's team who argued against the men's teams of rival schools. Likewise Evansville's men's team debated a complete women's team and, incidentally, were victorious.

Victories were won at the expense of Manchester and Franklin, the latter being defeated twice. Wabash won the decision over the locals in a very interesting but close debate. Northwestern University was met in a no decision contest.

Amos Boren represented Evansville College in the State Oratorical Contest this year. Boren placed fourth in the state meet.

"PARTNERS IN PROGRESS"

A community and its public utilities are truly "Partners in Progress." The one can not grow and develop without the other. Our modern cities have grown tall by the aid of electricity and gas and rapid mass transportation. In any review of modern advancement one naturally thinks in terms of electricity—for in everyday language it is synonymous with speed, comfort, efficiency, progress and advancement.

The interests of a city or community are then, closely linked with the electric, gas, steam heat, and street railway companies that serve them. In order that there may be growth, these essential services must not only keep pace with the increase in population and industrial development—but ahead of them.

The Southern Indiana Gas & Electric Company has not only kept apace, but has constantly been looking into the future five or ten years ahead for the needs of those it serves. It has been quick to take advantage of every advancement and improvement in equipment that will better its services.

When the idea of customer-ownership was born, this company was among the first to realize its importance and value. Why shouldn't those who use the service also participate in the earnings created thereby? By investing in the preferred shares of this company they have also helped provide—in part—the service which they enjoy. Our customers welcomed the idea—it has proved a most successful plan and today more than 3500 people are partners in this business. The progress and growth of this company has made it possible for them to invest—and they, too, have become "Partners in Progress"—partners in the growth and prosperity of this company and the communities which it serves.

Folks . . . it's been a Pleasure!

WE'VE heartily enjoyed working with your staff to produce a year book like this . . . .

NEXT year, we hope we'll have the opportunity to do our share again . . . .

NEW ideas . . . that's what staffs want! And we'll have a hatful of good ones for you when school opens in the Fall . . . just when the members of next year's staff will be scratching heads for new ideas . . . . just when they'll be wondering "what's it all about?"

THEN, when they're ready, we'll explain our four-fold service . . . we'll give them the help they need to publish a most successful year book . . .

"A Heart of Gold"

beats under many a rough exterior. But really nice people don't entertain the people with rough exteriors though their hearts be made of gold or silver or cottage cheese. The discriminating public is prone to judge first on appearances whether it be advertising or a future son-in-law. If you feel that your product has a heart of gold, don't handicap it by an advertising "rough exterior."

Creations by Koenemann-Riehl and Company are accepted even in the best of circles.
